PROBE OF SALOONS STILL A MYSTERY

Bar Keepers and Excise Board Members in Dark as to

INVESTIGATION CONTINUES

Department of Justice Evidently Intends to Quiz Every Liquor Dealer.

Excise Board members and Washington saloon keepers said today they were still in the dark as to the motive of the Department of Justice in' investigating conditions under which the latest liquor licenses were obtained.

A. Bruce Bielaski, chief of the Bureau of Investigation of the de-partment, continued interrogating saloon keepers today. Chief Biclaski is said to have been asked by more than one saloon keeper today what the motive for the questioning was, but he declined to give any answer. He maintained the same reticence when others inquired as to the reason Majority Summoned.

A majority of the saloon keepers have been summoned to Chief Bielaski's office and questioned, but it is understood all the others will be interrogated, the department evidently intending to quiz every man in the Houor business.

The questioning of all the witnesses has been identical, according to saloon keepers who have communicated with each other.

While the interrogation covers a wide scope as to the saloon business in Washington, the department is said to be chiefly interested in the of the attorneys who represented the saloon keepers before the Excise Board, the amounts of money paid as fees and whether any other money has been paid.

Speculate on Rumors. In the absence of many accurate information as to the Department of Justice's motive, the saloonkeepers and others interested in the investigation are speculating on all the rumors that have been affoat in Washngton for the past several months. The saloonkeepers say what they paid their attorneys to represent them before the board "is a matter be tween us and our lawyers."

They do not belivere the sums paid as retainers could be of any interest to the department. Most of them said the facts were such as to rant the statment on their part to Chief Bielanki that no particular law-yer had been recommended to them handle their applications before the excise board.

Heard Rumor.

Some of the saloonkeepers suggest ed today that the department was endeavoring to run down rumors that a man not indetified with the excise board and not an attorney had obtained large sums of money from saloon keepers on the misrepresentation that he "stood in" with the board and "could fix things."

The saloonkeepers said they had heard this rumor, but they had no knowledge of anyone in the liquor business here having paid money to anybody but attorneys for legal ser-No Official Notification.

The excise board is still without official notfication of the investiga-

The ony interest the board member have manifested in the inquiry is in the rumor that there has been sion between some member of the board and an attorney.

This rumor was branded as "en-tirely untrue" by members of the board today. It was admitted that the board members had heard the rumor but it was emphatically stated that "there is no vestage of truth in

A splendid health measure is to drink, before breakfast each day, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless way to wash these poisons, gases, and toxins from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels: thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs but very little at the drug store, but is sufficient to make anyone an enthusiast on inside-bathing. DRY BILL HEARINGS

Charles Stevens, San Antonio, Continental, E. B. Smith, Fort North, D. C. Committee Likely to Seek Sentiment of Both Sides Before Action.

DELAY WILL BE OPPOSED

Anti-Saloon League Spokesman Declares Hold Up is Only Thing to Avoid.

Hearings on the Sheppard prohibi ion bill probably will be held by the House District Committee before ac tien is taken on the Senate measure The belief is growing in the commit tee that both sides should be called upon to present argument, and il would be unfair to vote on the bill without an attempt to gain an idea of local sentiment regarding a saloon ess city. The prohibitionists are shying bit at the proposal to hold hearings. They fear that these hearings may drag along, and delay an early re port on the Sheppard measure, and as one spokesman for the Anti-Saloon League put it "the only thing we have to watch is delay."

People May Be Heard. However, several members of the District Committee will insist that no summary action be taken in that committee without offering to the people of Washington an opportunity to be heard on a matter that so vitally affects the city.
It is disclaimed that hearings would mean an appreciable delay, because the District Committee realizes that if it waits too long to report the nearly ion bill the Rules Committee will ste Toge, Harris.

Opposed To Bill.

As shown by the poll published in The Times yesterday, the majority of the District Committee is opposed to the Sheppard bill as it stands today. There is considerable sentiment in the House Committee for a referendum. The referendum advocates, in conjun ion with those opposed to prohibition in the District, are practically sure to Nevertheless, this is not expected to orestall action in the House at this session on the Sheppard bill. The Rules Committee is "dry," at least to the extent of forcing a vote in the hibiti on bill is brought into the open floor of the House its passage is certain. Will Wait Reasonable Time.

The plan is that the Rules Commitce will wait "a reasonable length of time" for a report from the District Committee, to which the Sheppard bill was referred. them to try this beverage, and the reply nine times out of ten will be that they were convinced the caffeine and tannin in tea and coffee were harmful to health.

I Some imagine it is hard to give up coffee and tea. But it isn't, with the delightful aroma and flavor of Postum at hand. This flavor somewhat resembles that of a high-grade Java coffee, but there is no coffee in Postum-only the nourishing goodness of wheat, skillfully processed with a small per cent of wholesome

Postum comes in two forms: Postum Cereal, which has to be boiled; Instant Postum-soluble-made in the cup, instantly. Some prefer one, some the other. Made right, they are alike delicious, and the cost per cup is about the same. There's better
